

TRIBAL CHIC

Festival season is coming to a close and holiday tans are perhaps fading a little, but summer isn't quite over yet!

Transport yourself to a Moroccan desert or African reserve with the hottest, latest fashion trend. The warm colours and sparkling metallics of the tribal trend are bound to brighten up the duller days and make your summer last a little bit longer.

Firstly, introduced by Alexander McQueen for SS14, the look embodies chunky jewellery accessories, kaftans or cover-ups and endless amounts of fringing. The tribal trend has expanded from these routes and can be seen throughout the high street creeping into AW14. Materials such as leather and chiffon are teamed with exotic patterns, metallics and embellishment to create luxurious yet wearable designs.

Don't be scared to mix up different patterns and colours, this trend relies on clashing and layering so get adventurous and let out your wild side! If you think it's all too much, opt for a simple accessory instead, thus adding a bit of tribal chic to any wardrobe staple to ensure you remain on trend.

> WORDS BY HAYLEY CHARLES

01.

01. Freedom at TopShop

02.

02. Miss Selfridge

03.

03. Monsoon

04.

04. Miss Selfridge

05.

05. Primark

06.

06. Dune

> IMAGES BY ANTON DRAGANOV / SHUTTERSTOCK.COM

07.

08.

09.

10.

11.

12.

13.

14.

15.

16.

